

Tenants affected by the floods and storms in Queensland

When you rent a place to live in Queensland your tenancy agreement is covered by the Residential Tenancies and Rooming Accommodation Act 2008. This fact sheet is for residential tenancies however most of this information also applies to rooming accommodation such as boarding houses.

If you want to leave

Where the premises have been destroyed or made completely or partially unfit to live in because of the floods or storms, you can give a Notice of Intention to Leave using the Residential Tenancies Authority (RTA) Form 13. You can give this notice anytime within one month of the event and leave on the same day. The grounds for the notice are "non-liveability".

- If you live in a caravan park and the park is unliveable you can give this notice.
- If you live in rooming accommodation you can use the Resident Leaving Form.

It is a good idea to take photos and have some evidence of non-liveability in case there is a dispute about it.

If the lessor wants you to leave

The lessor or agent can give you a Notice to Leave where the premises is destroyed or made completely or partly unfit to live in by flood or storm damage. They can give this notice within one (1) month of the event and ask you to leave the same day.

If you want to stay

Where the lessor has given you a notice and you want to stay you can dispute the notice by using the RTA's dispute resolution process. Set out the reasons you want to stay in a letter to the lessor or agent and send a copy of this letter with the RTA Form 16 Dispute Resolution Request to the RTA.

Make sure you mark this Form 16 with a cover note to indicate that your tenancy is in a flood affected area.

Rent

If you want to stay and the premises are destroyed or completely or partly unfit to live in because of the floods, you can try to negotiate reduced rent with your lessor or agent. Put any agreement in writing and keep a copy.

If you can't reach an agreement, you can apply to the RTA for dispute resolution using a Form 16. If the RTA's dispute resolution is unsuccessful, once you receive a Notice of Unresolved Dispute you can then apply to the Qld Civil and Administrative Tribunal (QCAT) for an order about the rent decrease. Even if you are not living there while the premises are being fixed, you are required to continue paying rent until the dispute is resolved. If this is not possible for you seek advice immediately.

Repairs

If the premises is damaged you must notify the lessor or agent as soon as practical.

If a repair issue is deemed an "emergency repair" under the tenancy legislation you can apply directly to QCAT for an urgent hearing, or arrange for emergency repairs to be carried out, up to the value of 4 weeks' rent. An "emergency repair" includes flooding or serious flood damage. This does not apply to rooming accommodation.

Repair requests can be outlined on an RTA Form 11 Notice to Remedy Breach.

Cleaning due to flood damage

If the premises are dirty due to the floods, the lessor is responsible for cleaning the property and inclusions and you are responsible for cleaning your goods and possessions.

If you are moving out, ensure that you clean and remove your possessions. You are not responsible for cleaning flood damage. If there are parts of the property that are not flood damaged and which you can reasonably access, you should return these to the condition you received them in except for fair wear and tear.

Bond

You should apply for the bond on the day you return possession to the lessor or agent.

The fastest way to make an online bond claim is here, you'll need a QDI.

The other way of claiming the bond is to complete the Refund of Rental Bond form, and post to the RTA.

The RTA will act on the first application or form they receive and will notify the other party that a claim has been made. Make sure the RTA always has a current email and forwarding address for contact.

If a dispute arises about the bond, the RTA will hold the bond while the parties go through the bond dispute process.

Compensation

Generally, compensation is not available for losses caused solely by flood or storm damage.

However, if the lessor/ agent:

- was notified of a repair issue prior to an act of nature occurring; and
- failed to repair within the permitted time stated in the notice (or, if no time is stated in the notice, within a reasonable time), and the failure to repair caused the tenant to suffer loss/ suffer further losses you may be able to claim compensation against the lessor/agent.
